

OBITUARIES

REV. ANDREW WEINSTEIN

Port Chaplain Will Be Buried Tomorrow Afternoon

The Rev. Andrew Weinstein, missionary and chaplain of the port of Philadelphia, will be buried tomorrow afternoon at St. Peter's Episcopal Church, 2d and Pine streets. The funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. Weinstein died on Sunday at the Episcopal Hospital, after an illness of 10 days. When he was on his deathbed, his son was fighting in Serbia as a member of the French infantry. A Jew by birth, Mr. Weinstein was converted at an early age to Christianity. He was ordained by Archbishop Temple in St. Paul's, London, when he came to this country. He began his missionary work among the Jews in the southern section of the city. Bishop Whitaker, of the Episcopal church, appointed him port chaplain in 1911.

Bernard Harburger

Bernard Harburger, of the jewelry firm of Harburger Brothers, 1914 Chestnut street, died yesterday at 3235 North Broad street. Mr. Harburger was believed to be enjoying good health and his death was a shock to his friends and the associates. No arrangements for his funeral have been made. Mr. Harburger's son is dead and he had no children.
